

ENCYCLOPÆDIA IRANICA

Legion d'honneur for Mr. Jack Mahfar

Our trustee Mr. Jack Mahfar of Geneva has been honored by receiving Legion d'honneur from Mr. Nicolas Sarkozy, the President of the French Republic, in recognition of his charitable and humanitarian deeds and cultural endeavors.

We are naturally most happy that a Trustee of our Foundation has been honored by becoming the recipient of the well-known medal of distinction in France, Legion d'honneur.

Mr. Mahfar's career from a modest life in Jubareh, a district of Isfahan to his present position is a model of success by hard work and intelligent recognition of opportunity in the field of pharmaceutical production and trade, or as he himself puts it in the title of his autobiography, "From being a worker to being a creator of works."

We wish him continued success in the fields of his endeavors.

Encyclopaedia Iranica Staff