

ABŪ 'AMR AL-MĀZOLĪ

---

ABŪ 'AMR AL-MĀZOLĪ, Karrāmī theologian, fl. mid-4th/mid-10th century. Most of the later branches of the Karrāmīya traced themselves back to Ebn Karrām through him; he was the last important representative of the school before the expansion and diversification which occurred under the early Ghaznavids. Nothing is known about Abū 'Amr's life or doctrine.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

---

Al-Ḥākem al-Jošamī, Šarḥ 'oyūn al-masā'el, MS Leiden Ar. 1942a, fol. 43b.

J. van Ess, Ungenützte Texte zur Karramiya (Sb. Heidelberger Ak. Wiss., Phil-Hist. Kl., 1980, 6), Heidelberg, 1980, index.